

Nick Lundvall Named to Veckans Affärer's Super Talents 2017 List

Nick Lundvall, Associate of General Atlantic's London office, was named in Veckans Affärer's list honoring this year's most talented finance professionals in Sweden, part of the annual 101 Super Talents List.

This list of 101 Super Talents is selected by Veckans Affärer's editorial team to honor the year's most impressive young leaders from Sweden across five categories: entrepreneurs, careerists, influencers, community builders, and financiers. To create the 101 Super Talents List, the magazine's editorial team conducts research on potential honorees each year to find the most inspiring young talents by asking about their career choices, achievements, and passions.
