

Emily Japlon

Vice President, Global Marketing and Communications

Region: 1

Office Location: New York

Emily Japlon is a Vice President at General Atlantic and leads the firm's investment and portfolio communications globally. Before joining General Atlantic in 2019, Emily worked at Brunswick Group, a global advisory firm focused on business critical issues, where she specialized in financial situations and crisis communications. Prior to that, she held roles at The Glover Park Group (now FGS Global), a strategic communications and government affairs firm.

Education

Tufts University, B.A., English and International Relations

Columbia Business School, M.B.A.